A MARINA FULL OF LIFE

What a sight seeing the marina packed for the Kubota Billfish Competition! Even with mixed weather, the atmosphere was incredible. We were proud to support the event, and congratulations to all participants. The hardstand was fully booked too – great to see so much activity around the marina.

Fuel Berth – Petrol Hose Length

We've been asked if we could install longer hoses on the petrol pump. Short answer is no as they're at legal maximum length due to petrol's flammability. Smaller vessels may need to turn around to reach.

Contractors working on your vessel

A list of local contractors is available on our website <https://destinationwhitianga.co.nz/contractors/>. A reminder: if you are engaging a contractor, you are responsible for ensuring they've completed the marina induction and hold appropriate insurance.

Electrical Upgrade – Piers C & D

Upgrades on piers Z and E are complete. Work on Pier D (and then pier C) will begin immediately after Easter.

New service: Hull Voltage Marina

A new silver Chloride probe is now available for hire to help detect stray electrical current and electrolysis.
